For Wanda, I was planning to finally come and see Steve W when I saw this looking for an address. I am sorry it is so late but wanted to say you have my greatest sympathy. I am the other Steve who shared an apartment/house during his years in Landstuhl Germany. He was possibly the greatest friend I had throughout my life and it is to my detriment that I didn't keep in touch with him throughout the years. What times we had in Landstuhl (I won't go into them) drinking German beer and listening to Beatles music loud enough for the entire little town of Obermohr to hear what we were playing. Many parties, lots and lots of friends, good honest work and lots of fun made these three plus years some of the best of my life. God bless him and I'm sorry I didn't get the opportunity to reconnect,
